Stars of the week

Well done to you all- you are all our stars, at home and in school, for all the wonderful learning that you have done this half term 😊

Half term at home and in school

I have just been wishing staff a happy and restful holiday; they have worked so hard for all our children, both at home and in school.

I also hope that you will enjoy not having any remote learning next week and not having any school trips to make, but I am also aware that many of you will still be working, still have ongoing concerns; I hope that you all can find some rest next week.

There is a clip from Dr Alex George, who has been appointed Youth and Mental Health Ambassador, on YouTube, which may help older children and maybe even adults:

Video call lessons next half term

As mentioned in the last ParentMail letter, there will be some changes to the timings of our video call lessons after half term. This is the new main timetable:

8.40-9.20 EYFS (Mon-Thurs)

9.25-10.25 KS2 (all week)

10.35-11.05 KS1 (all week)

As these have moved, there will be changes in group and individual calls as well; invitations will be sent to you to let you know days and times. If you have any difficulties with these days and times, we may be able to help, so please let us know.

If your child can attend the video calls, it will help them to access and improve their learning, but also has social benefits.

Data Privacy Notice update

This is being updated to include Purple Mash, which is a fantastic resource that will help with delivery of the computing curriculum, along with other useful aspects.

Roblox- possible issues

We've been made aware that Roblox can include games made and uploaded by users and that some of these may not be suitable for children of primary school age. Please do check this for yourselves, alongside continuing to talk to your children about their online safety and asking them to report straight away anything that they see online that they don't think is appropriate. Thank you.

Reporting Covid19 symptoms and tests during half term

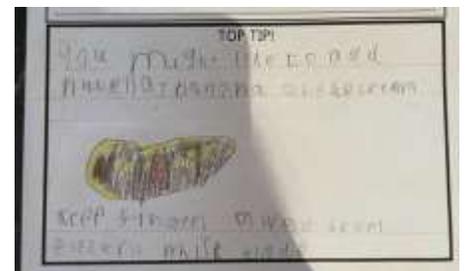

Please may those of you whose children are currently in school or are going to be in school after the half term holiday continue to report to us if children develop symptoms or have a positive test, via info@bressingham.norfolk.sch.uk.

We have to continue with test and trace over the holiday period and also to prepare for any actions that may be needed after the holidays. Thank you again.

Some learning at home and at school...

In the deep, dark, damp forest, a girl was running. As she ran, bushy, tangled brambles scratched her legs. CRUNCH! A branch broke beneath her feet. She could see her breath in the cold, freezing air and taste the salty sweat dripping down her face. The swamp green overhang of the trees felt like an enclosure. As she ran through the forest, there was a shard of morning sunlight. Would she escape?

Snow drops

Thank you all for your support of our wonderful children and school.

Wishing all our families safe and a happy break- take care everyone.
